EXECUTIVE SUMMARY (FOR INTERNSHIP)

When doing my internship placement, I was developing a platform like Bookings.com, with functionalities of accommodation and event bookings, and creating a social network for traveling enthusiasts. With React, Angular, SCSS and MUI, we built web application, which is easily navigable, interactive and has powerful filtering, searching and recommendation features, and of course, the ability to easily book a place.

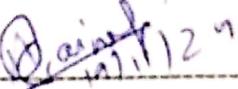

I learned more about frontend development, styling, and user experience design, as well as lessons about teamwork and good time management. This internship is useful in enriching a modern feature-rich web application development experience.
